FIRE IN R. & R. SHOE STORE

About 10:30 Sunday evening Policeman Harris discovered fire in the R. & R. shoe store on East Main street. The fire company responded quickly, and in a very few minutes were playing two streams of water on the flames. The fire in the shoe department was soon extinguished, but the partitions which separated the millinery department from the front prevented much effective work from being done until a line of hose was dragged around to the rear of the building. The fire had by this time gained a hold between the ceiling and the roof, and it was necessary to take another line to the roof. In a few minutes more a hole was burned through the roof and then the fire was quickly extinguished.

The stock of millinery, belonging to G. W. Johnson, was completely destroyed, as the fire started towards the rear of the building. The shoes in the front part were somewhat damaged, and many boxes were badly scorched before the flames were extinguished.

J. O. Abney's stock of groceries in the adjoining building was badly damaged by water, although the fire was kept out of the building by the prompt work of the firemen.

How the fire started is a mystery. No one has any idea of its origin. It was in a dangerous locality, and but for the efficient work of the fire company would have soon spread to other buildings and done great damage.

The building is the property of John W. Beard.

CLARK HAS RHODE ISLAND

Providence, R. I., June 3.—Revised complete returns from the first Democratic presidential primary in Rhode Island show that Speaker Champ Clark, candidate for the Democratic nomination for president and National Committeeman George W. Green, candidate for re-election have been victorious. Speaker Clark received 4,107 votes to 1,333 for Governor Wilson and 727 for Governor Harmon. Committeeman Green polled 5,224 votes against 4,991 for Congressman George F. O'Shaughnessy. The ten delegates to the Baltimore convention will support Speaker Clark on at least one ballot.

The King's Birthday

London, June 3.—Today was the forty-seventh birthday anniversary of King George, who was born in Marlborough House on June 3, 1865. His majesty spent the day quietly with his family. During the forenoon the members of the diplomatic corps called at the palace and left messages of congratulation in behalf of their respective sovereigns. The anniversary was celebrated in the usual manner today at all naval and military stations throughout the empire. In London and at all home stations, however, the official observance of the anniversary will not take place until June 14.

FRISCO WILL PUT DOWN NEW RAILS

Mr. W. C. Nixon, vice-president of the Frisco, states that 25,000 tons of new 90-pound rail has been ordered and will be laid on the Frisco during this year.

The first consignment will be received in July and this 90 pound rail will replace the 75 and 85-pound rail at various points between St. Louis, Mo., and Springfield, Mo., and Memphis, Tenn.; Monett, Mo., and Paris, Tex.; Kansas City and Springfield, Mo.; and on the lines extending south and southwest from Sapulpa, Oklahoma and Monett, Mo.

New rail is now being laid between Oklahoma City and Sapulpa, Okla.

Mr. Nixon also states that during the next year, four large steel bridges—two of them over the Arkansas river—will be replaced by heavier steel bridges.

Battlefield Monument Dedicated

Chattanooga, Tenn., June 3.—The monument erected on the Chickamauga battlefield in memory of the Alabama soldiers who participated in the historic conflict was dedicated today with impressive exercises conducted by the Ladies' Memorial Association and other patriotic organizations. The monument, which was designed by E. C. Hamage, is located on the firing line, a spot which was held by the Confederate soldiers from Alabama during the great battle.

The Empress DeThroned. The Empress theatre, which has been in operation for two or three months past, went very suddenly out of business Saturday night and Carl Beck, the manager, took the 3:30 train out of town Sunday morning leaving some sadder but wiser people. His experience has pretty well demonstrated the fact that the town already had all the shows it that it could support.

I. R. GILMORE FOR COUNTY COMMISSIONER

The latest candidate for the Democratic nomination for Commissioner of District No. 2 is I. R. Gilmore, who lives six miles west of Ada.

Mr. Gilmore is a successful farmer and has lived in Pontotoc county for the past twelve years, doing what lay in his power to aid in the development of the country which he had selected for his home. He has always taken a great interest in all public questions.

Mr. Gilmore knows the needs both of his district and the county and is making his campaign on a platform advocating strict economy. If elected, he can be relied upon to insist on conducting the government of the county on a basis of economy as rigid as can be maintained consistent with efficient service. If elected, he can be relied upon to give close personal attention to the duties of his office.

KINGSTON MAN IS BUILDING AEROPLANE

Kingston, Okla., June 3.—For some years Capt. Geo. W. Thompson, of Kingston, has been studying air navigation and has been working out his plans for the construction of a successful machine. He has examined the construction and mechanism of the various machines, noted their good points and their defects, and has planned a machine he thinks will be superior to any yet built. His model has been examined by experts and it is generally conceded that his ideas solve many problems in air navigation. Mr. Thompson is now at work building a machine for trial, and hopes to have it ready for practical demonstration by the first of July. A company has been formed for the manufacture of the machine, and all are waiting anxiously for the trial trip of the "Kingston."

CHARLEY CHAUNCEY'S WASHING MACHINE

Have you seen the new "Champion" washing machine patented by Charley Chauncey? The machine has been on exhibition at the Ada Hardware Co. for the past ten days. In a demonstration before the business men of the city, it was the universal opinion that it is the most thorough cleaning and the quickest bone of any washing machine yet invented. Two minutes being all the time necessary to clean very dirty garments. A family washing can be done in 30 to 50 minutes. The machine can be used in your house without making any slop as the machine is air tight. As a labor saver it has no equal. Every family where washing is done at home should provide themselves with this labor saving device.

H. A. Ladd, who until a few days ago was employed in the Parral district of Mexico by the American Smelting and Refining Co., spent Sunday here with his brother-in-law, W. L. Whitaker. Mr. Ladd escaped from Mexico on the last train coming from the Parral district, the bridges being burned immediately afterward. He left this morning for New York.

MEMORIAL SERVICE BY WOODMEN CIRCLE

Sunday afternoon the Woodmen Circle held a most impressive memorial service and decorated the graves of Mrs. J. O. Tipton, the only member of the local grove who has died.

The services at the hall were presided over by Mrs. M. G. Meadows, state manager of the circle. Misses Ida Enloe and Murray Lucas, and Mrs. James Hounshell gave several excellent musical selections and the other features of the service were of a character that served to impress the audience with the solemnity of the occasion.

At the cemetery Judge McKeown delivered an eloquent tribute to the memory of the departed and the work being done by the order. Miss Lena West recited the poem on immortality which forms a part of the service, and the Ada male quartette, composed of L. T. Walters, Joe Guss, Grady Wilbanks and Cranston Smith gave some well-rendered selections.

Visitors were present from Konawa, Holdenville, Stratford and Sulphur.

LITTLE FOLKS GIVE NICE ENTERTAINMENT

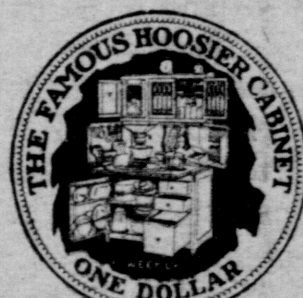

No account of the closing exercises of the Normal would be complete without mention of the entertainment given Friday afternoon by the little folks of Miss Timberlake's department. Miss Timberlake has always been recognized as one of the most competent primary teachers in the state and her pupils never fail to show their excellent training when the occasion arises.

The entertainment opened with the Lohengrin march and closed with the German Klapp dance, the maypole dance and another march. The remainder of the program was made up of recitations by Magdalene Yeargin, Denton Floyd, Renfro Herndon, Mary Elta McKendree, Annie Louise Shaw, Violet Knight, Bernice Bray and Hugh Howell, duets by Lee Robinson, and Magdalene Yeargin, Sale Yeargin and Mildred Louise Timberlake, Eugene Howerton and Wylie Blanks, Jimmie McCoy and Virginia Abney, a solo by Sale Yeargin, and a game called "Meeting and Greeting."

The News owes Miss Timberlake an apology for overlooking this item in Saturday's paper.

The Okmulgee Daily Herald has suspended publication, having found that the town could not support two daily papers. This publication was recently taken over by a bank which had advanced money to it, but the bank did not experiment with it long. At the present rate the papers of Oklahoma will soon be thinned to a stand and the publishers in a position to win a few dollars as well as glory for their efforts.

A. Trippett, a well-known traveling man of Enid, was an Ada visitor Saturday. He is an old friend of A. B. Yeager, of the News, but they had not seen each other for fifteen years prior to their meeting Saturday evening.

Pope Seventy-seven Years Old.

Rome, June 1.—The Pope will be seventy-seven years old tomorrow. He was born at Reice on June 2, 1835. In accordance with his wish the celebration of the day will be private. The greater part of the day he expects to spend in company with his sisters and a few specially invited of the faithful. In anticipation of the anniversary many addresses and telegrams of congratulation have been received at the Vatican from all parts of the world.

An Artistic Interior

When completed no house in Ada will have an interior better or more tastefully finished than that of Don Tolbert on Fourteenth and Townsend streets. The rooms are all beautifully tinted, and the woodwork polished most beautifully. The floors are of oak, and are also being given a high polish. Every detail of the painting, staining and polishing shows the hand of a real artist. This most excellent job is being done by G. W. McDole, who is proving himself a master of his trade.

Judging from the returns from states in every corner of the Union during the past few days, Champ Clark's houn' dawg seems to be not only gobbling up all the meat but also licking up the gravy.—Ada News.

And the potlicker and the dry bones, too!—Wapanucka Press.

Newspapers and nervous people are beginning their annual campaign for a "sane Fourth of July." That day has always been sane enough at Ada, so it will hardly be necessary for the News to take a hand.

If Wilson fails to get the presidential nomination, it will not be on account of any undue modesty on the part of his campaign managers in claiming everything in sight—and then some. Their figures have been big enough from the first.

The Good Roads Association of the State of Washington has laid out a plan for first class public highways that involve an expenditure of $15,000,000, if the legislature approves the project. The entire state will be made a net work of roads that will be an object lesson to the world.

A writer in the Saturday Evening Post says that Champ Clark's boom was very much of a joke at first, and no one took it seriously, and that even yet the political wisecracks are unable to figure out how he has exhibited the wonderful running power that has placed him in the lead.

The copies of the Appeal to Reason sent out to so many non-socialists may not be designed to convert the recipients. The socialists probably get a lot of fun out of thinking about how mad the Appeal to Reason dope makes anybody who has any sense.—McAlester News-Capital.

Some practical joker has proposed A. C. Trumbo, of Muskogee as the vice-presidential nominee on the Roosevelt ticket. If Trumbo has any idea whatever that the matter is serious he might do well to read the story about the donkey that tried to catch up with the bunch of hay which hung on from a stick suspended over his head. No matter how fast he walked the hay kept just ahead.

The News wishes that every Democrat in the county would subscribe for the Kumrid, the new anti-socialist paper at Okemah. Furthermore, they should place it in the hands of every man who shows any tendency to stray from the fold into the briar patches of socialism. The paper costs 50 cents per year, or 25c in clubs of three or more. Furthermore, boys, this item is purely voluntary on the part of the News, for the editor of the Kumrid has asked no favor at our hands, but nevertheless, we are glad to recommend his paper for he fights the enemy with their own weapons.

A few weeks ago Charles T. Afflect, an auctioneer of Muskogee, attracted some little notoriety as the result of a want ad through which he sought a wife. A whole scad of silly girls answered, and out of the bunch, he chose the one who suited his fancy best. He evidently did not find married life altogether a sweet dream, however, and the realities not suiting him very well, he has abandoned his bride and now she wants a divorce and alimony to the amount of $25 per week. He is probably convinced that although a bachelor's life has some drawbacks, the married state has more.

A FORECAST

We have now approached near enough to the republican national convention to forecast the action of the body. Ex-President Roosevelt, will, apparently, have a majority of the northern states, while president Taft seems likely to have a majority of the convention—including the southern delegates, who represent merely patronage and boodle. Mr. Roosevelt has been careful to arrange for contesting delegates from the south—this was the first indication of his intention to bolt. With a majority of the northern delegates he is in position to have a convention of his own in case his contesting delegates are refused admission.

The conclusion, therefore, is that Mr. Roosevelt will be the nominee of the regular convention or the nominee of a bolting convention. Get ready for his candidacy—he is quite sure to run.

Can Roosevelt be defeated? Yes, by any good progressive. A progressive will hold the democratic vote and the republicans who oppose a third term will do the rest. Mr. Clark and Mr. Wilson are the leading progressive candidates—either one of them can defeat Roosevelt. The country will never have a president for a third term.—Commoner.

THREE EARLY JUNE WEDDINGS

Barringer-Bailey

About 10 o'clock Saturday evening the marriage of Mr. Walter M. Barringer and Miss Maude Bailey was solemnized at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Bailey, 18th and Townsend, Rev. C. L. Brooks performing the ceremony. The happy young couple left on the south-bound Katy for Colorado, via Kansas City, and will spend about thirty days on their b-ideal tour.

The bride is one of the most charming and popular young ladies of Ada. Her circle of friends is limited only by her acquaintance, and although regretting to lose her from their ranks, the young people of Ada wish her much happiness in her wedded life.

The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Barringer. He is an industrious and successful young man in his business affairs and merits the many congratulations which he has received.

Bailey-Rodke,

At the close of church services Sunday evening, the marriage of Mr. A. M. Bailey and Miss Lorena Marie Rodke was solemnized at the Methodist parsonage, Rev. C. L. Brooks officiating. The marriage was witnessed by J. L. Huber and wife, John W. Beard and wife and F. W. Meadows, special friends of the contracting parties.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lorenz Rodke, of Pauls Valley. She has visited in Ada very often, and has made a host of friends here. She is well worthy the love of any young man, especially of so excellent a one as the fortunate groom to whom she surrendered her heart and hand.

Mr. Bailey is a traveling salesman for Hale-Halsell Co. He has lived here for some time during which he has proved himself an upright and honorable man in every particular and a man with a bright future. Of course, the couple will make their home at Ada.

Bond-Laxton.

Sunday afternoon at 6:30, Mr. Claud Bond and Miss Minnie Laxton were united in marriage at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Laxton, East Main street. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Leroy Anderson.

The bride is one of Ada's most excellent young ladies, who has a host of friends and admirers who wish her much happiness.

The groom is employed at the Purity Ice Cream Factory, and is a young man of industrious habits and excellent reputation. The News extends its best wishes and heartiest congratulations to the principals of this early June wedding.

The couple will make their home at 217 West 16th street.

GRADUATION WEEK AT ANNAPOLIS

Annapolis, Md., June 3.—Annapolis is in a gay and festive mood for the celebration of "June week" at the Naval Academy, the period during which the Board of Visitors appears and when the class whose members have completed the four-year course is graduated. The vanguard of the expected throng reached Annapolis Saturday and other visitors are coming in on every train, and by tomorrow the city will be crowded. The exercises of the week began this morning with the official reception to the Board of Visitors, and will end with the farewell ball Friday night. The reception took place on Worden Field, and the brigade of midshipmen, headed by the academy band, did the honors. Immediately following the reception an infantry drill by the brigade took place, followed with an inspection of the several departments at the academy under the guidance of the naval officers on duty. During the afternoon Capt. John H. Gibbons, superintendent of the academy, tendered a reception to the official party at his quarters in Blake row.

Commissioners in Session.

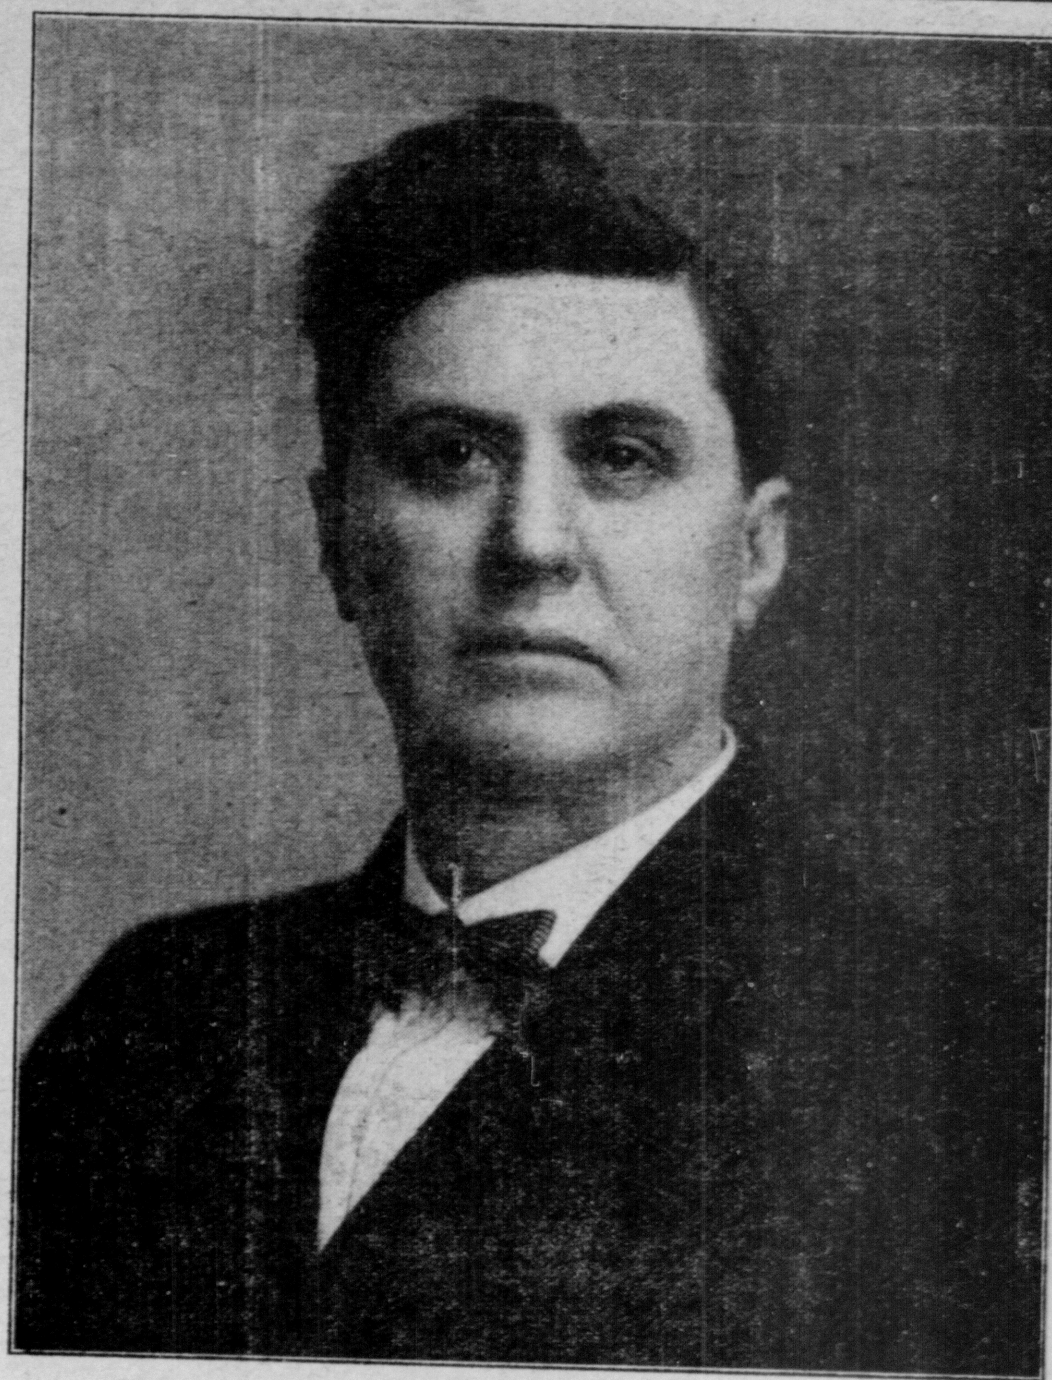

The County Commissioners are in session today arranging the details of the debt funding matter. Judge McKeown will pass upon the application tomorrow morning and everything pushed to completion at once.

Surrounding Coal Beds Strong Competitors

The production of coal in Missouri during 1911 was normal, and no marked increase in the future above that due to increased population in the rural districts may be looked for. Missouri is surrounded by other important coal producing States, where mining conditions are better than in most of the Missouri districts, and the larger cities of the State, St. Louis and Kansas City, draw their fuel supplies in great part from the bordering States. The markets for Missouri coals are restricted to comparatively local territory, largely rural, and the railroads. Illinois coals are the principal competitors in the east. The coal industry in Missouri suffers also, however, from competition with oil and natural gas.

The coal mines of Missouri in 1911 gave employment to 9,991 men, who worked on average of 183 days, against 9,691 men for an average of 154 days in 1910.

To Missouri's coal production, as reported by the Geological Survey annually, during the last few years, should be added a considerable quantity that is credited to Kansas. The workings of the mines at Leavenworth, Kans., on Missouri River, extend under the river into Missouri territory, and the larger part of the coal reported as produced in Leavenworth County, Kans., is, in fact, mined in Platte County, Mo. This probably amounts to 250,000 tons a year.

HON. JOHN P. CRAWFORD
Representative from Pontotoc County and Speaker of the Next House.

MISSOURI INCREASES COAL OUTPUT

The final figures for the coal production of Missouri in 1911, according to Edward W. Parker just made public by the United States Geological Survey, show an output of 3,760,607 short tons, valued at $6,431,066. This is a notable gain over the production of 1910, and if the banner year, 1907, is excluded, it exceeds the output of the State in any other year since the beginning of coal mining.

In 1910 coal-mining operations in Missouri, as in the other States of the Mississippi Valley region, were suspended for a good part of the year on account of labor troubles, resulting in a decrease of output for Missouri from 3,756,530 short tons in 1909 to 2,982,433 tons in 1910. In 1911 the industry was practically free from labor disturbances and the output showed an increase of 778,174 tons, or 26.1 per cent. The value increased $1,102,781, or 20.1 per cent. The average price in 1911 was $1.71 a short ton, compared to $1.79 in 1910.

BIG HAUL OF BOOZE AT ALLEN SATURDAY

Pink Eaton is over from Allen for a few weeks. He states that last Saturday about the biggest haul of booze on record was made at Allen by Clint Butler and himself, 389 pints being captured and locked up for further proceedings. The owner of the wet goods evidently fearing trouble if he kept it in town, hauled it out into the woods and dumped it in four piles where it was found by the officers who had got next to the maneuver. The owner has not yet been definitely located.

GREAT BALL GAME FOR WEDNESDAY

The base ball game that will be played Wednesday at the Normal between the teachers and the faculty promises to be one of the most exciting games of the season. The teachers are getting up a fast and furious team. They have searched the representatives of fifteen counties and eight states to get a good team. Needless to say, the team will be a good one, when it goes on the field.

The Normal faculty team has demonstrated in the past what it can do. Although it has met with one defeat this year, Wednesday it expects to overcome all past records by winning a great slugging match. It is strengthened by the presence of E. C. Wilson, Bomer, Durham, Smith and Liner. The line-up will be as follows:

Wilson, E. C., 1st base, Cox 2nd base, Fentem short stop, Harrison 3rd base, Fielders, Lilly, Wilson, Lamb, Durham, Liner. Little pitcher, catcher.

The line-up for the teachers will be given tomorrow. The game will be called at 4 p. m.

FAIR WEATHER IS IN PROSPECT

Washington, June 3.—The coming week will be one of generally fair weather except for local scattered thunder showers, with temperatures near or above the seasonable average throughout the Eastern and Southern States and generally over the Middle West. This forecast is contained in the bulletin issued last night by the Weather Bureau. The bulletin continues:

"No widespread disturbance is charted to cross the country during the week, although a barometric depression over the far Northwest will move eastward along the northern border to the St. Lawrence valley by Tuesday night or Wednesday. It will be attended by showers and followed by cooler weather in the northern States east of the Rocky Mountains."

FISH SUPPORT TOWN

Anchovy Found in Large Quantities in Holland.

Fact is Not Widely Known—Supposition That Mediterranean Sea Has Monopoly of Industry is Erroneous.

The Hague, Holland.—The coat of arms of Enkhuizen, one of the dead cities of the Zuyder zee, bears three silver fishes, which, it is explained, are anchovies; for Enkhuizen owed a great part of its prosperity to the anchovy fisheries.

It is generally supposed that the anchovy is caught exclusively in the Mediterranean sea, so it comes as a surprise to most people to hear that it is so largely caught off the coasts of Holland. Dutch fishermen have been familiar for ages with the fact that the anchovy comes up in great shoals at certain times of the year and enters the Zuyder zee to spawn. There have, however, been considerable lapses of time when no anchovies at all appeared, and when it was feared that the Dutch fisher folk had lost their means of earning a livelihood, then, suddenly, without any apparent reason the shoals of fish again became regular visitors. These last few years the anchovy has been particularly plentiful. Many a Zuyder zee fisherman has made his living for the whole year during the anchovy season, which lasts from six to eight weeks, and as much as 1,000 florins ($400) worth have been known to be taken in a single day.

Formerly the method of capturing a shoal of anchovy consisted in stretching an enormous net with small meshes between two boats. This net touched the sea bottom. Then the boats hoisted sail and the more wind there was the better pleased were the fishermen. They sailed on for a while and then when the net was lifted it contained thousands of silvery fishes. Later on they preferred to fish with stationary nets, because more fish could be caught in that way. Each fisherman places his own nets in a certain part of the sea, and after a while comes to see whether they have been filled with fish.

The anchovy brings plenty of work for many another category of persons than the regular fishermen. For the fish have to be cleaned, salted and packed into casks. The cleaning is done almost exclusively by women and children, the salting occupies the "salter" and the making of the many casks employs a little army of coopers. Then the packing is also done by experienced hands in such a way that the anchovy can be kept for many years without spoiling.

The herring fishers also often secure millions of anchovy near the coasts of Holland. For as soon as they perceive a shoal coming their way they will fix anchovy netting into their herring nets, and so often secure almost miraculous hauls.

The anchovy is a small fish, the full grown specimen being only fifteen centimeters (5.9 inches) long. The back of this fish is bluish and the under parts are white, glistening like silver in the sunshine.

MONKEYS BURNED TO DEATH

Menagerie Burns and Animals, Unable to Escape From Cages, Huddled Together and Are Smothered.

London.—Ten valuable monkeys and two dogs were the victims of a fire in a menagerie in Hackford road, Brixton.

Shut up for the night in cages (three or four in each), the animals had no opportunity of escape, and, although the fire brigade were on the scene within a few minutes and the fire quickly put out, it was too late to save them. When the fire was extinguished the dead monkeys were brought out, still in their cages, and placed in the yard. They presented a truly pitiable sight. Lying in the blackened straw in a huddled mass—several in each other's arms—they seemed to have collected together as if seeking protection from an unknown foe.

Demands Health Certificate.

Topeka, Kan.—That he would not perform a marriage ceremony unless the bride and groom passed examinations showing themselves to be mentally, morally and physically fit to enter matrimony was the announcement of Rev. Charles M. Sheldon, pastor of the Central Congregational church. "The time has come," he said, "for the ministers of the gospel to recognize that every child brought into the world has a right to be well born. Let every minister refuse to perform marriage ceremonies until physicians have produced certificates, and it will not be long until the children brought into the world all will be well born."

Walks Ten Miles Asleep.

Lakeview, Ore.—Miss Nellie Porter, twenty years old, arose from her bed and while still asleep walked ten miles, and was found at 3 o'clock in the morning, when she fell exhausted upon the porch of the Glidden residence in New Pine Creek, fifteen miles south of here.

She did not know how she had reached the Glidden home. The last she remembered was going to bed at the home of the family for whom she worked, three miles away. Her tracks were followed through the fields, woods, over rocks and through creeks which she had forded.

Healthy Mothers

Women who bear children and remain healthy are those who prepare their systems in advance of baby's coming. Unless the mother aids nature in its pre-natal work the crisis finds her system unequal to the demands made upon it, and she is often left with weakened health or chronic ailments. No remedy is so truly a help to nature as Mother's Friend, and no expectant mother should fail to use it. It relieves the pain and discomfort caused by the strain on the ligaments, makes pliant and elastic those fibres and muscles which nature is expanding, prevents numbness of limbs, and soothes the inflammation of breast glands. The system being thus prepared by Mother's Friend dispels the fear that the crisis may not be safely met. Mother's Friend assures a speedy and complete recovery for the mother, and she is left a healthy woman to enjoy the rearing of her child.

Mother's Friend is sold at drug stores. Write for our free book for expectant mothers which contains much valuable information, and many suggestions of a helpful nature.

Better Things in Sight

Frances hurried to the telephone. "Hello!" she said, brightly. But in a minute her voice broke. "No, you have the wrong number."

She put her pretty head on the telephone table and began to cry. "Oh, dear, oh dear! It's always the wrong number. No one ever wants me. Oh, dear, I'm so miserable!"

When she had first looked cheerfully at the new white card by the telephone she did not know that the number would be of no consequence to a solitary soul in Chicago. Occasionally George, her young husband, would call her up from his office, but usually all day long Frances stayed in the apartment with a silent telephone. If it did ring it was somebody who had the wrong number.

So Frances cried. She had cried because she was lonesome, for she knew no one in the big city. She cried because she was tired, homesick and miserable and because her sobs were company for her in a sad sort of way, a bit consoling.

The first few weeks she had not cried. "Be busy and you will be happy," she would say. The tiny flat glistened with cleanliness.

After a while this did not satisfy her. She had reduced her housework and marketing to a system and it took very little time to keep the flat in order. George had seen her dresses again and again and good dinners were a matter of course. At first Frances tried extra housework as an antidote for loneliness, but after her violent scrubbing had taken the shine off the kitchen ware, after she had broken some vases by needless dusting and spilled furniture polish on the rug she stopped. Her trousseau was still new and did not require the attention of sewing or shopping. On the few occasions she had left her neighborhood she had become lost. She had always lived in a small town and the noise of the city streets and the crowds in the stores confused her.

All her experiments had failed. So Frances cried. In the midst of her grief the door bell rang.

"A peddler," Frances said, dolefully. She wiped her eyes and opened the door. It was not a peddler, but a sweet young woman. She carried some letters.

"I am Mrs. Allen from across the hall," she said, timidly. "I brought up your mail."

Frances took the letters mechanically. Then she noticed that the powder was suspiciously thick around the eyes and nose of her visitor. Clearly Mrs. Allen had been crying, too. Impulsively Frances put out her hand.

"I wish you would come in," she said.

The two tear-stained young women sat down in the living room. "It was kind of you to bring the letters," Frances began.

"Oh, it's nothing," said Mrs. Allen. A pause. "I couldn't help seeing that one letter was addressed to Mrs. Frances Stevens West. I used to hear my cousin Eula Thomas talk of a Frances Stevens, of Plainfield."

"Oh," cried Frances. "That's I. Is Eula your cousin? She is my best friend."

"I heard so much about you," declared Mrs. Allen. "I didn't know you lived in Chicago."

"I haven't very long," said Frances. "Neither have I," said Mrs. Allen. "I don't know many people here."

"I don't know any," Frances replied. "Neither do I," said Mrs. Allen. "Do you enjoy the city?" Frances asked.

"Well," replied Mrs. Allen, "it has so many advantages. There are so many things to do and see. The theaters and concerts are fine. One does not waste time over social trivialities."

"Yes," said Frances. "And the modern conveniences simplify housekeeping so that there is time for the advantages. I—I like it."

"I don't," declared Mrs. Allen with decision. "Neither do I," said Frances, with sudden decision.

"You see," said Mrs. Allen, growing confidential. "I came from a small town where I knew everybody. I'm not used to the city and I don't know my way about. There is so little to do when my husband is away. Why, sometimes I have asked Central to ring my telephone to know if it's in order."

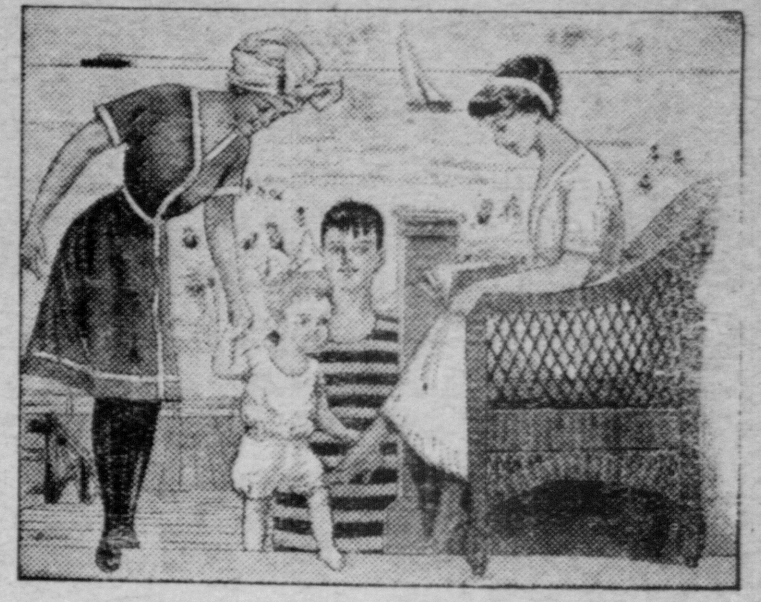

"That's how it is with me," said Frances. "Don't you want to see my apartment?"

After the tour of inspection, in which Mrs. Allen had been properly enthusiastic, Frances said timidly: "I would be so glad if you would stay to tea."

"I'd love to," she answered. "If you will let me bring over my fresh cake." The tea party progressed famously. The brides forgot their tears and laid plans for shopping and matinees and promised to introduce their husbands. Mrs. Allen gave Frances the cake that was left and was presented in turn with a painful of new rolls. The two parted affectionately.

"I am so glad you came over," said Frances. "This is the first time I have had company."

"It is the first time I have been to a party," said Mrs. Allen. "Neither have we," said the brides. And from that time on life in the great city grew pleasant. The loneliness had been dispelled.

SOUTH CELEBRATES DAVIS'S BIRTHDAY

Atlanta, Ga., June 3.—The South today celebrated the one hundred and fourth anniversary of the birth of Jefferson Davis, and paid tribute to the memory of the only president of the Confederacy. The day is a legal holiday in South Carolina, Texas, Tennessee, Mississippi, Alabama, Georgia and Florida. In each of these states and in Louisiana and Virginia also the day was observed with appropriate exercises conducted by the public schools and the various patriotic organizations.

Sixth State Fair of Oklahoma.

Cash prizes amounting to $50,758.00 are offered at the sixth annual Oklahoma State Fair and Exposition, Sept. 24 to Oct. 5, 1912, according to the annual Premium List just issued. The book contains 246 pages from cover to cover and is probably the most complete catalogue ever published by any fair or exposition. It is printed on a good quality of paper, handsomely bound and contains useful information about everything pertaining to agriculture, live stock, industries, etc. Much care has been shown in the arrangement of the twenty-one big departments and there are many handsome illustrations, including some of the most pretentious of the sixty big buildings and barns on the State Fair Grounds; floor plans of some of the buildings, and pictures which give some idea of the big amusement features that will be seen this fall. Pages would be required to tell everything in the big premium list which is not only the best ever issued by the Oklahoma State Fair and Exposition, but which appeared before any other premium list of any other fair in the United States. In other words, Secretary I. S. Mahan enjoys the distinction of being the first secretary to get his annual premium list ready.
